My Net Worthwhile® is helping clients gain freedom in their financial lives so they can focus and have a bigger impact on what is most important to them.

Clara's passion is helping clients gain financial freedom. She partners with individuals and families to develop their confidence in decision-making and to craft personalized financial strategies to achieve their goals. Clara is especially skilled at engaging with clients in times of personal and professional transition. Whether a client is facing divorce, loss of a spouse, receiving an inheritance, the sale of a business or retirement, her goal is to provide the tools to move forward with confidence and clarity.

With over 15 years of experience, Clara began her career at a multi-family office working with ultra-high net worth families helping to navigate their complex investment strategies and maximize the impact of gifting and transfer strategies. Prior to joining SignatureFD in 2015, Clara was with Wells Fargo Private and the multi-family office, Keel Point LLC. She also participated in The World Race through Adventures in Missions leading a team of seven volunteers serving in 11 countries in the Caribbean, Central and South America, Africa, and Southeast Asia. She is currently serving as a member of the Young Life Investment Committee.

Clara is a South Carolina native and graduated with a Bachelor of Science in Corporate Finance from Clemson University.

She is an avid Clemson football fan, enjoys writing calligraphy and being outside with her husband, Stephen, and their two children.
