My Net Worthwhile® is making sure that the financial information our clients and advisors receive is correct and as up-to-date as possible.

Liz believes that good data is the key to good wealth management. As senior portfolio reporting manager, she strives to ensure that clients receive exceptional service and that all their account-level needs are met. She works behind the scenes to assist our advisors in confirming the information viewed by clients and advisors is complete and correct.

With more than 30 years of experience in the financial service industry, Liz has in-depth industry knowledge and the ability to manage and resolve multifaceted operational issues. Her primary area of expertise is operational management.

Before joining SignatureFD, Liz worked as a financial associate at an investment management firm in Marietta, Georgia.
