My Net Worthwhile® is seeking the next opportunity to foster financial confidence.

Raised by a single mom, Jamie is passionate about providing support and education to women who face major financial decisions on their own. The path of her professional career has afforded constant opportunities to share that passion. Jamie feels blessed to wake up each day and help clients accomplish their goals and dreams by identifying and implementing the most effective financial tools and strategies.

Jamie joined SignatureFD during the firm's early years. She was the first Planning Associate and dedicated a decade to developing and implementing the firm's vision for its initial Wealth Management Team. She also helped establish the framework for our Solutions Team. In her current role as advisor for SignatureWOMEN, Jamie is involved at all levels in helping tailor wealth advisory services to the unique needs of today's woman investors, specializing in creating holistic financial plans. She gives specific attention to assisting others with her expertise in risk management.

She graduated from Georgia State University's top-ranked Risk Management & Insurance program. Her passion for the RMI industry and student leadership sparked the successful reactivation of the GSU chapter of Gamma Iota Sigma, an international professional fraternity that continues as a currently active student program.
