My Net Worthwhile[®] is continuing to learn and grow in a field where I can help others achieve their own Net Worthwhile[®].

Kade is passionate about helping others achieve their financial goals, driven by personal experiences that shaped his understanding of money management. Growing up in a small town in South Georgia, he witnessed his grandparents struggle with retirement planning, inspiring him to pursue a career in finance.

Today, as a dedicated team player and fast learner, Kade helps oversee investment interns, assigning projects that improve portfolio management efficiency. He is committed to developing his technical knowledge of investment concepts and finding innovative ways to use software to track and manage portfolios.

Kade holds a Bachelor of Business Administration in Finance from Georgia Southern University. During his time there, he served as president of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, leading efforts that raised over $20,000 for the Children's Miracle Network of Georgia. His dedication to community service also extended to organizing fundraisers for a local family affected by a hurricane.

Outside of work, Kade enjoys fishing, cooking, watching football, and spending time with friends.
